

I Can't Write on the Road

Don Gnecco

Some people think that songs write themselves,
With a guitar in hand.
But I've never had much luck on the road, writing songs on demand.
I've traveled all over, singing in bars,
Playing my songs all night,
So, I don't have strength to craft a new song, I don't have time to write.

Chorus:

So, I Can't Write on The Road.
I do better when by myself.
I need music to feed my soul,
But I Can't Write on The Road.

When it is quiet, in reverie,
Music comes to my mind.
In order for me to work on a song, I need time to unwind.
I've learned that I need to sit with a song,
Inspiration will guide.
Before a song's finished, I need some time, list'ning to what's inside.

Chorus:

So, I Can't Write on The Road.
I do better when by myself.
I need music to feed my soul,
But I Can't Write on The Road.

Modulation

Chorus:

So, I Can't Write on The Road.
I do better when by myself.
I need music to feed my soul,
But I Can't Write on The Road.
I need music to feed my soul,
But I Can't Write on The Road.
