

Just From Knowing You

Don Gnecco

In the Universe I see my star is rising,
And I owe it, in part, to knowing you.
In the challenges I've faced you've held me up so high
So that I could do the things I needed to.

For so many years I didn't lean on anyone,
Thinking I could do it on my own.
But you've made me realize that what I need is here inside.
And I didn't have to do it all alone.

Chorus:

You've helped me see the loving side of me
That is part of all I say and all I do.
And I know the light that shines from deep inside
Reflects the love of life I have just from knowing you.

When I finally let go and started living
And got in touch with the parts I had denied
You reminded me that deep inside is all I need to know
I no longer needed someplace else to hide.

You've helped me see the loving side of me
That is part of all I say and all I do.
And I know the light that shines from deep inside
Reflects the love of life I have just from knowing you.

Modulation

Around you I see my essence sparkle;
I see wonder in everything I do.
For I've come to understand that there's a part of me
That is stronger now, just from knowing you.

You've helped me see the loving side of me
That is part of all I say and all I do.
And I know the light that shines from deep inside
Reflects the love of life I have just from knowing you.
Just from knowing you.
