

BETTER DAYS

Don Gnecco

All through my life I've wished away the years.
I couldn't love, I was held back by my fears.
I let them rule me, I didn't realize
I'd be alone, with no lovin' and no ties.

I'm on my path, it's coming into view,
I'll be okay, for I'm walking it with you.

All through my life I thought I would never find
Joy and elation, happiness of any kind.
But having seen the possibilities,
I knew that there would be better days than these.

Modulation

Sometimes I feel that the days are rushing by.
Once in awhile I feel sad and wonder why.
Then, I can see them - possibilities.
Knowing that there would be better days than these.

I'm on my path, it's coming into view,
I'll be okay, for I'm walking it with you.

Spring turns to summer and Fall is on its way.
I've hit my stride, now I value ev'ry day.
Now I can see the opportunities.
I can't see how there'll be better days than these.
