

All We Have Is Love

Don Gnecco

We can lift each other up when we sing together in one song.
When we join our hearts in this community to which we all belong.
We are bound by our unity, our voices lifted high.
Open hearts, we see the Light in all, a love we can't deny.

And as the years go by, under skies above,
We'll hold one another in our hearts,
For all we have is love (is love).

We can lift each other up when we sing together in one song.
When we join our hearts in this community to which we all belong.
We are bound by our unity, our voices lifted high.
Open hearts, we see the Light in all, a love we can't deny.

And as the years go by, under skies above,
We'll hold one another in our hearts,
For all we have is love.
For all we have is love.
